

CV - Dr. Christoph Hardt

Co-Founder & Managing Director

Dr. Christoph Hardt (born 1980)

Dr. Christoph Hardt is Co-Founder and Managing Director of COMATCH, the online marketplace for independent management consultants founded in October 2014. Before, he worked for McKinsey & Company, the internationally leading consultant company, for almost eight years, where he was mainly responsible for marketing and sales projects for clients from the energy and chemical industry, in the end as project manager. In 2011, he received his PHD in economics from the University of Bayreuth where he had completed his degree in business administration before. During his studies he also attended the renowned EDHEC - Grande École de Management in Nice, France. While working at McKinsey, he supported junior consultants by mentoring and by taking part in recruiting. He holds several teaching assignments in B2B marketing & sales.

About COMATCH

COMATCH is the online marketplace for independent management consultants and industry experts. Since March 2015 COMATCH is matching consultants with clients in need of external support. Companies of all sizes use COMATCH, among them international corporates as well as consultancies, startups and SMEs. Consultants that want to join the network have to pass a two-step selection process to guarantee high quality of consulting. As of June 2017 2500 consultants from more than 50 countries are registered. Founders and managing directors of the Berlin-based company are former McKinsey consultants Dr. Christoph Hardt and Dr. Jan Schächtele.
